Questions to consider

Before our meeting, please consider these questions. Your answers will help us understand your investment personality and objectives.

Your investment objectives:

- What are your most important personal and financial goals?
- How would you like to spend your time in retirement?
- If you have a business, how would you like to participate in or sunset it over time?

Your current picture:

- If you currently have a financial plan, how is it invested (savings accounts, money market fund, mutual funds, individual securities, etc.)?
- If you own a business, what is the type, the length of ownership, its growth potential, and its liabilities?
- What are your estimated future expenses and income (college tuition, parental care, inheritance, long-term care, etc.)?
- Are there any legal considerations I should be aware of, including business, marital, lawsuits, etc. ?

Your investment style:

- When you get a bonus or commission check, what do you typically do with that money?
- How important to you are tax-sensitive investing strategies?
- Do you consider yourself an aggressive or conservative investor?
- Are there certain asset classes or securities you are interested in or wish to steer clear of?
